

DOUGLAS SMITH

Douglas Smith is best known for his starring role as Ben Henrickson on HBO's critically acclaimed series BIG LOVE, starring Bill Paxton and Jeanne Tripplehorn. He has also starred in the indie film REMEMBER THE DAZE, opposite Amber Heard, Leighton Meester and Lyndsy Fonseca. He recently starred in the independent THE BOY WHO SMELLS LIKE FISH opposite Zoe Kravitz and was recently seen in Brandon Cronenberg's ANTIVIRAL which premiered at Cannes 2012 in which Douglas co-starred opposite Caleb Landry Jones, Sarah Gadon and Malcolm McDowell.

Douglas is currently starring opposite Logan Lerman in the second installment of Fox's internationally successful PERCY JACKSON franchise.

DOUGLAS SMITH

Star of the HBO series Big Love, 25-year-old Douglas Smith was born in Toronto, the son of a teacher and a producer of low-budget movies. His acting career started in an Australian series named Out There, in which he played an American boy living in Australia. He has previously played roles in the movies Sleepover, Rock the Plaid, Santa's Slay and State's Evidence as well as guest-starring on television series CSI, The Unusual Suspect, Goodbye and Good Luck and The X-Files among others.

Big

Douglas Smith is the star of Big Love and an accomplished musician. He took some time to dress up fashionably and tell us a bit about himself.

Photograph: Michael Nguyen McCormack
 Styling: Holly Tran-Vieton
 Interview: Dina Morale

his Orchestra
www.myspace.com/hisorchestramusic

